Ako Hui are booked in ...

Kia ora whānau, and well done! We have almost 100% of Ako Hui booked for next Thursday. The tamariki are looking forward to presenting their learning to you. Confirmation slips are going home this week with your times on them for next week, so please check your tamariki's bags. School is closed this day for normal instruction - tamariki only come in with you at their allocated time to present their learning. They do not have to wear school uniform and might want to dress up for the occasion. It is a special day.

We have certainly had a wet few weeks, and we have still had a lot of tamariki that have had coughs, colds, sore throats and the flu. This has meant our attendance rates have dropped a little to the 80s. Thank you for keeping tamariki at home if they are sick and letting us know. If they are well we want to see them at school - even if it is raining!

AKO HUI

We look forward to seeing you with your tamariki on this day as they share their learning with you next Thursday.

END OF TERM

This is the last day for Term 2 and we will finish at the usual time of 2.30pm.

BANKING

Wahoo we cracked 50 bankers last week! Awesome work, let's aim for 60 this week. Well done to Whare Kōrero who constantly have 100% of their bankers banking each week. Welcome to our newest bankers, Jason Larby, and his brother Makeo, who starts school later in the year.

SPORT WANANGA

What a great morning it was last Thursday when members of the Hockey, Basketball, Netball, Swimming, Rugby and Soccer Academies all had a Sports Wānanga. They worked on goal setting with Kōkā CC, within the 4 big areas of tactical, technical, physical and psychological and how this can improve performance. They had a nutrition session with Katie from Sports Tairāwhiti where they made some snacks and talked about the components that made up the snacks (protein, carbohydrates etc) and why good nutrition is important. And they also had a fun physical session with Matua Paora and the coaches as well. We think it's important to be teaching these skills for the future.

UNIFORM

With the cold weather has come an influx of all sorts of hoodies and jerseys which are not our Kaiti Hoodies. We recognise that it has been not the best drying weather but please help us with ensuring your child is coming in the correct uniform. We have plenty for sale in the office as well as others in the lost property. Naming them is the best way of ensuring they find their way back to their owners too. We are amazed at how many we find without names.

STARDOME

All classes this week have been lucky enough to have the educators from Te Tairāwhiti Museum here teaching them about Voyagers and then connecting this with learning inside the Stardome that has been set up in the hall. All the classes that have attended so far have loved their sessions. Thanks to the kaiako from the museum who have been at kura sharing their knowledge.

SPORTS

Well done to all of those tamariki that are signed up to sport who turn up to practices and games every week. We have had some pretty cold mornings, so well done for showing commitment to your team. Thanks to our whānau for supporting the tamariki and getting them to their games.

Te Marama by Legend Paul

Te Marama waiting patiently for his time to shine, as the sun finishes his show,

Te Marama aglow and puts his face on the screen like in a movie! Te Marama so excited for his time and the sun cheering him on ...

But no one is there, no one playing so he orbits his best friend to keep her company as she fills the sky with her cold breeze of sorrow ...

Until he could see a little boy that looks like he's lost, he gets all excited but then realised that the little boy is troubled so he blows the clouds out of the way, gaining a torch over the town! Making the kid find his way back home safely!
